MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear UT Community,

You may have noticed references around campus to the six core values of The University of Texas at Austin: learning, discovery, freedom, leadership, individual opportunity, and responsibility. We uphold these values by striving to ensure our students, faculty, and staff members have safe and accessible spaces in which to learn, work, and live—not just on the Forty Acres but also at UT properties around the state and the country.

The 2024 Annual Security and Fire Safety Report is designed to provide the campus community with valuable information regarding safety and crime on campus so we can all help to make UT Austin a safer place. In addition to crime statistics for calendar year 2023, this report provides information about the University's safety and security policies and procedures; annual fire statistics for on-campus student housing; and practical information for preventing and reporting crimes and other serious incidents. As this report shows, UT Austin's campuses and other affiliated properties continue to be very safe.

At UT Austin, safety and security are shared responsibilities among various departments across the University, working to keep our campus community safe. We are dedicated to continuous improvement, investing in educational and prevention efforts while providing support and services when crime or tragedy does impact members of our Longhorn family. This annual report is just one of our many efforts to provide safety information and resources to all our students, employees, and visitors.

I would like to extend my thanks to everyone who contributes to keeping UT Austin safe. Your efforts are an integral part of making sure Longhorns can continue changing the world.

Sincerely yours,

JAY HARTZELL

President

MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF OF POLICE

Dear UT Students, Faculty, and Staff,

Welcome back to the Forty Acres, Longhorns! I'm honored and excited to serve as your UTPD Chief of Police and Associate Vice President for Campus Security. Safety remains my top priority, and I am committed to continue finding innovative ways and strategies to enhance the security of our campus and to keep our community and visitors safe.

UTPD works closely with University departments, local law enforcement agencies, and community partners to keep you safe. Our officers are on duty 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. We serve and protect the largest institution in the UT System and have made a concerted effort to be more visible both on and off campus. There is a large student population in the area west of campus. The UTPD West satellite police office has moved to 2400 Nueces, and our officers patrol areas west of campus daily. We are currently working to have UTPD West staffed after hours to accommodate community needs later in the day.

Transparency is another cornerstone of UTPD's commitment to the community. Our Interactive Transparency Dashboard provides easy access to data related to incidents and calls for service. This tool empowers our community by keeping everyone informed.

Please remember that campus safety is a collective responsibility. I encourage you to get involved in keeping our community safe. If you see something suspicious, call 9-1-1 or report it on the LiveSafe app. The app allows you to send texts, pictures, or videos directly to our dispatchers. It now includes a new panic alarm feature that sends your location to UTPD without the need to type or say anything, ensuring immediate police assistance. You can also find University resources on the app: UT Shuttle Routes, UT Night Rides, Sure Walk, and how to contact the West Campus Ambassadors.

I encourage you to follow UTPD on social media. UTPD frequently provides updates and important information on X, Facebook, and Instagram. If there is a timely warning or emergency notification about public safety, UTPD social media accounts are a quick way to access this information.

Have a fun and safe year, and remember that our officers are here if you need us.

ANNUAL CAMPUS SECURITY REPORT

University Risk and Compliance Services

OVERVIEW

THE CLERY ACT IS A FEDERAL LAW THAT REQUIRES COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES TO DISCLOSE INFORMATION ABOUT CRIME ON AND AROUND THEIR CAMPUSES.

The law is named after Jeanne Clery, a 19-year-old Lehigh University freshman, who was raped and murdered in her campus residence hall in 1986. Clery's parents later said that had they known about the crime on campus, they never would have allowed their daughter to attend that college. In response to this tragic incident, the Clery Act was passed.

Since it was signed into law in 1990, the Clery Act has undergone many changes to include additional requirements about the rights of sexual assault victims, sex offender notifications, emergency response, and protection for whistleblowers.

THE ANNUAL SECURITY AND FIRE SAFETY REPORT PROVIDES POLICY AND PROCEDURAL INFORMATION ABOUT SAFETY AND SECURITY AT UT AUSTIN.

All members of the University community are encouraged to use this report as a guide for safe practices on and off campus.

In addition, the University is required to make information about certain policies and programs available to the campus community as well as to prospective students and employees. This report includes the required information, statistical data, and other material that may be of interest.

All University policies and documents referenced are current as of the publication date of this report. The statistical data in this report reflects the period from January 1, 2023 through December 31, 2023 and includes data for calendar years 2022 and 2021.

University Risk and Compliance Services would like to thank the campus community and all those on and off campus who play a role in preparing this report. Together, we can continue to make all UT Austin campuses safe places to learn and grow.

REPORTING A CRIME OR EMERGENCY

Reporting to UTPD or Local Law Enforcement

All members of the campus community are encouraged to promptly report crimes and emergencies to the University of Texas Police Department or local law enforcement, even if the victim of a crime elects not to or is unable to report. It is crucial that criminal activity be reported immediately and as accurately as possible, as some crimes pose risks or dangers of which the campus community must be notified in order to minimize potential harm to individuals and property.

Emergency Reporting

In event of an emergency, call 911. If you do not have access to a phone, you can utilize the blue emergency call boxes located throughout campus. Pushing the call button will connect you with UTPD 911 dispatch and automatically pinpoint your location so an officer can respond immediately. Additionally, you can always report a crime or emergency to any uniformed police officer on patrol.

Confidentiality & Mandatory Reporting Requirements

All University employees (except those deemed confidential employees) are required by state law to promptly report all occurrences of sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, and stalking to the Title IX Coordinator and cannot honor requests for confidentiality. However, the University will share information only as necessary under University policy and applicable laws, such as with investigators, witnesses, administrators, and the respondent.

Individuals identified as campus security authorities are required by federal law to report all Clery Act offenses. The only individuals who are expressly exempt from these reporting obligations are professional and pastoral counselors while operating within the scope of their license. These employees are encouraged to provide confidential reporting resources to the person they are counseling when a criminal offense is disclosed.

UT Austin does collect reportable crimes for inclusion in our annual report from the Counseling and Mental Health Center, as well as from University Health Services. However, the reports received from these units do not contain any identifying information regarding the victims or reporting party.

Anonymous reporting options are available to victims of crimes and to witnesses who are not mandatory reporters. Anonymous reports are counted and included in the annual disclosure of crime statistics, as these statistics do not contain any identifying information, regardless of whether the incident was reported anonymously.

ABOUT THE POLICE DEPARTMENT

Authority & Jurisdiction

The University of Texas at Austin Police Department is a state police agency with an authorized strength of 100 sworn officers. It is a fully-functioning, accredited state police agency serving the UT community 24 hours a day. UTPD includes an investigative division, K-9 teams, bicycle teams, and its own 911 dispatch center.

Under Texas law, UTPD officers have authority and responsibility to investigate all crimes occurring on the property owned or controlled by the University. UTPD officers are fully empowered by the state to stop vehicles, make arrests, and enforce all laws.

Relationship With Other Law Enforcement Agencies

UTPD has a written Memorandum of Understanding with the Austin Police Department that provides a cooperative arrangement for regional law enforcement and public safety. The MOU pertains to the communication of criminal activity reported to each department as well as requests for assistance in investigation of some alleged criminal incidents. UTPD also maintains close liaison with the Travis County Sheriff's Office and the Texas Department of Public Safety.

SEPARATE CAMPUSES & NONCAMPUS LOCATIONS

While the department's jurisdiction extends to all University property, UTPD does not regularly patrol or post officers at locations outside of the Austin area. Separate campuses outside of Austin and most University-owned noncampus properties are served by local law enforcement for 911 emergency services and monitoring of criminal activity. While UT Austin and UTPD do not have formal agreements with these agencies, information about crimes occurring within UT's Clery geography is requested annually for inclusion in the disclosure of campus crime statistics.

STUDENT ORGANIZATION PROPERTIES

Noncampus properties owned or controlled by recognized student organizations, including those student organizations with off-campus housing facilities, are outside the jurisdiction of UTPD, and the University has no responsibility for security policies, procedures, or safety at these locations. Criminal activity at such noncampus properties is monitored and recorded through local police agencies.

Collaboration between UTPD and APD aids in the coordination of this monitoring and the sharing of information regarding incidents occurring at noncampus locations owned or controlled by recognized student organizations within the city of Austin. Crime data for all noncampus properties is requested from local law enforcement agencies on an annual basis for inclusion in the disclosure of campus crime statistics.

Crime Prevention Education & Programs

An informed public is essential to any successful crime prevention program, and UT Austin strives to make the campus community aware of steps they can take to stay safe and help ensure the safety of others. UTPD's Community Engagement Division provides a wide range of services and educational programs designed to promote campus security and aid in anticipating and minimizing potential dangers to people and property on campus. The department works with student organizations and other campus partners to help educate students, employees, and visitors about how to prevent and report crimes.

TRAINING & EDUCATIONAL INITIATIVES

Civilian Response to Active Shooter Training

CRASE training sessions are designed to provide the knowledge and skills to help keep yourself safe when faced with a dangerous situation. This hour-long training is led by UTPD officers and available to students, faculty, and staff upon request.

Rape Aggression Defense System Classes

The RAD System teaches defensive concepts and techniques against various types of assault by using easy, effective, and proven self-defense tactics. UTPD typically offers a RAD self-defense class once each semester, available free to students and employees.

Citizen Police Academy

The Citizen Police Academy is an annual, seven-week program designed to give the public a better understanding of UTPD and provide department personnel a chance to interact with community members. Through lectures, demonstration, tours, and hands-on practice, the program teaches participants how UTPD officers do their jobs and how civilians can help ensure their own safety.

Partnerships in Learning

UTPD works with campus partners to host educational events throughout the year. Event information is maintained on the UTPD website. Departments and groups can request presentations on a variety of topics related to personal safety and crime prevention.

Orientation Programming

During New Student Orientation sessions, all incoming freshmen and transfer students are provided information about campus security procedures and practices, including practical information on crime prevention and how to be responsible for their own security and the security of their fellow Longhorns.

New employees are also provided with information about campus safety and security resources during their onboarding.

Stop the Bleed Training

A person who is severely injured can bleed to death in as little as five minutes. Stop the Bleed training educates bystanders on how to identify life-threatening bleeding and methods to save someone's life based on the location of the injury. Courses are routinely provided by Dell Medical School, the UT Medical Reserve Corps, and Longhorn EMS.

Crime Prevention Tips & Guides

In addition to its in-person training opportunities, UTPD maintains practical safety and crime prevention information on its website, including guides on how to identify and report mail scams, theft prevention strategies, and how to double-lock a bike.

OTHER PROGRAMS & RESOURCES

LiveSafe App

LiveSafe at UT Austin is a free mobile app designed to prevent crime and enable better incident response. The app allows students, employees, and visitors to report incidents and tips to UTPD, call 911 from anywhere, and receive emergency notifications. Users can also quickly access emergency information, including a Safety Map which shows locations of AEDs, Stop the Bleed kits, emergency call boxes, and video surveillance.

Sure Walk

Students, faculty, and staff who are on campus late and have concerns about their safety getting home can request Sure Walkers to accompany them.

UT Night Rides

UT Austin partners with Lyft to provide free rides from campus from 11 p.m. to 4 a.m. Riders must register for the program in order to receive their monthly ride credit.

Bicycle & Property Registration

UTPD provides a free property registration service to UT students, faculty, and staff. Registration helps police to locate the owners of lost or stolen property, and any item with a serial number (such as computers, bikes, and other valuables) can be registered.

Make Your Mark

To help protect valuables, UTPD loans out electric engravers to allow students, faculty, and staff to mark their property with their state-issued driver's license number. Groups can also request to host an engraving party.

Voices Against Violence

VAV is an interpersonal violence prevention program that provides outreach and prevention services to the UT Austin campus community, with a focus on interpersonal violence prevention, including sexual violence, dating violence and stalking.

BeVOCAL

BeVOCAL is a University-wide initiative to promote the idea that individuals have the power to prevent high-risk behavior and harm with the goal of enhancing bystanders' confidence and motivation to intervene to prevent and reduce harm.

Behavior Concerns Advice Line

BCAL provides anyone the opportunity to discuss their concerns about the behavior of someone affiliated with UT Austin. Trained staff are available 24 hours to help callers explore available options and strategies, and all callers can remain anonymous.

Timely Warnings

When a Clery Act crime is reported to campus authorities and poses a serious or ongoing threat to students, employees, or visitors, the University has a responsibility to provide a timely warning to the campus community in a manner that will aid in the prevention of similar crimes. The decision to issue a timely warning is made by UTPD in coordination with campus leadership and is based on a number of factors, including the nature of the crime, the geographic location of the crime, and the continuing danger posed to the campus community.

To reach as many members of the campus community as possible, timely warnings are distributed through a variety of methods, including text messages, campus-wide email, the LiveSafe app, and posts on UTPD social media accounts and the UTPD website.

Timely warnings include information needed to allow individuals to take action to protect themselves, including the date, nature, and location of the incident; a physical description and/or composite drawing of the suspect (if available); and how to report additional information about the incident. In some cases, UTPD may need to keep some facts about the incident confidential to avoid compromising an investigation.

EMERGENCY RESPONSE

Emergency Notifications

The University will notify the campus community immediately upon confirmation of significant emergencies or dangerous situations occurring on campus that pose an immediate, credible threat to the health and safety of students or employees. The decision to issue an emergency notification is made by UTPD in consultation with the Office of Emergency Management and campus leadership. Examples of situations in which an emergency notification would be issued include building fires, gas leaks, release of hazardous materials, bomb threats, and active shooter or hostage situations.

CONFIRMATION OF EMERGENCY

Initial confirmation of a significant emergency or dangerous situation that poses an immediate threat to the health or safety of the campus community may occur through the observations of police or security officers, telephone calls from multiple witnesses, activation of alarms, or a confirmed report from another emergency response agency.

DISSEMINATION TO CAMPUS COMMUNITY

Upon confirmation of a significant emergency or dangerous situation, UTPD and OEM will collaborate, along with campus leadership, to determine the content and method of notification to the campus community. This determination will be made based on a number of factors, including the nature and extent of the threat, the time of day, and the technology available in the building or area in which the threat is occurring.

Taking into account the safety of the community, notifications will be disseminated without delay, unless campus authorities determine that issuing a notification would compromise efforts to assist a victim or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency. In some circumstances, UTPD and OEM may determine that notification should be disseminated only to a certain segment of the campus population to which the threat is limited (for example, a gas leak that affects a single building).

METHODS OF COMMUNICATION

Text Alerts & Mass Notification System

UT Austin uses software to send text messages to members of the campus community, both for mass notification and to notify response personnel. Emergency notifications and instructions can be sent via text message, phone, and email. In accordance with state law, students, faculty, and staff are automatically enrolled to receive emergency University communications via text message and email. This system is tested monthly.

Fire Panel System & Emergency Communication System

Buildings equipped with addressable fire panel systems incorporate an Emergency Communications Systems Interface designed to provide real-time instructions and information, either remotely or locally. This system can be used to make announcements to an entire building regarding evacuation, sheltering, or lockdown procedures. Residence halls are equipped with fire panel systems with public address capability, and resident advisors are trained to use these systems to make emergency announcements.

Outdoor Warning & Siren System

An outdoor warning system was installed on UT's main campus in 2007. The system uses siren sounds to alert the campus community to take shelter in the event of an emergency. This system is tested monthly.

University Emergency Website & Phone Line

The Emergency Website provides live status updates on campus operations and is used to provide information during emergencies and campus closures. Alternatively, members of the campus community can call the University's Emergency Information Line at 512-232-9999 to hear a recording of the information provided on the Emergency Website.

University Group Email

During emergencies, University officials can send an "urgent" email to every student, faculty, and staff member. The email directs individuals to the Emergency Website for additional information and instruction.

Public Safety Patrol Car Announcements

UTPD patrol cars are equipped with PA systems, which officers can use to provide instructions to pedestrians during emergencies.

Flat-Panel Monitors

Residence halls and several other public gathering places on campus have flat-panel televisions where emergency announcements may be posted. These screens are owned by the departments that provide them and are dispersed throughout campus.

Campus Television & Emergency Alert System

The University operates a cable television channel available in most on-campus residence halls. While normally used to convey information about on-campus events and residence hall information, this system can also be used to deliver important information to students during an emergency situation. This system is also tied into the national public warning system known as the Emergency Alert System.

Local News & Social Media

University Communications staff send emergency information to the press and update social media with public safety messages. Because students and employees may be away from campus during an emergency, the University utilizes the press and social media to help keep members of the campus community informed.

Evacuation Emergencies & Procedures

In the event of an evacuation emergency, students, employees, and campus visitors should follow evacuation procedures. Evacuation emergencies may include incidents such as major fires, flooding, bomb threats, and hazardous materials spills. In most cases, evacuations apply only to buildings or areas immediately affected by the incident, but evacuation emergencies may also be applied to the entire campus.

EVACUATION PROCEDURES

- (1) Evacuate when prompted by continuously sounding fire alarms or by an official announcement.
- (2) Make use of designated primary and alternate evacuation routes.
- (3) Leave the building in an orderly manner without rushing or crowding. Close classroom and office doors as you leave.
- (4) Do not use elevators.
- (5) Provide aid to those who need it if you are able to do so safely. Report to emergency responders any individuals who have been injured or were unable to evacuate the building.
- (6) Follow instructions given by UTPD and other officials. You may be asked to proceed on foot to designated areas or evacuate the campus entirely.
- (7) Evacuate crosswind or upwind from the location of the emergency if you are able to do so safely.
- (8) Evacuate at least 300 feet from the building and out of the way of emergency vehicles.
- (9) Do not reenter the building until an all-clear is given by official announcement.

Severe Weather Sheltering & Safety Procedures

Severe weather presents a serious threat to the safety of the campus community, and it is important to follow safety procedures and understand the different terms used.

WEATHER WATCH

This means conditions may produce the type of weather specified (e.g., tornado watch, severe thunderstorm watch). You should monitor the weather and check for updates from the University Weather website, the National Weather Service, and/or local news.

WEATHER WARNING

This means the type of weather specified (e.g., tornado warning, severe thunderstorm warning) is imminent or occurring and is an immediate threat. You should take immediate action to shelter and protect yourself.

In the event of a severe weather warning, follow safety procedures and seek shelter immediately in a designated area. Use your arms to protect your head and neck in a “drop and tuck” position. You can use a jacket, cap, backpack, or other similar item to protect your face and eyes.

If you are inside a building, seek shelter in an area that puts as many walls as possible between you and the outside, such as an interior hallway or stairwell. Remain on the lowest floor possible and stay away from windows and other areas with glass. If there is no time to get inside, seek a low-lying area, such as a ditch or ravine, and lie down. Be aware of the potential for flooding, and stay as far from buildings and automobiles as possible.

REPORTING SEVERE WEATHER

If you spot a tornado or experience damaging winds or large hail, call 911 to report the occurrence to emergency dispatchers if you are able to do so safely.

Hazardous Material Sheltering & Safety Procedures

In the event of a hazardous materials release on campus, the University may issue a shelter-in-place announcement. Students, faculty, and staff should immediately move indoors and close all windows and doors. If possible, use towels, clothes, paper, or other materials to seal around windows and doors. If there appears to be air contamination within the shelter, place a paper mask, wet handkerchief, or wet paper towel over your nose and mouth for temporary respiratory protection. Continue to follow instructions given by responding authorities.

Drills, Exercises, & Training

In conjunction with other emergency agencies, the University conducts emergency response drills and exercises each year, including table-top exercises, field exercises, and tests of the emergency notification systems on campus. These tests, which may be announced or unannounced, are designed to assess and evaluate the emergency plans and capabilities of the institution.

The campus publicizes a summary of the emergency response and evacuation procedures via email at least once each year in conjunction with a test (exercise and drill) that meets all of the requirements of the Higher Education Opportunity Act.

Emergency communication processes are tested monthly. This test includes a campus-wide email that contains resources, directions, and information regarding emergency communication, response, evacuation, and shelter procedures.

Evacuation drills are conducted for each occupied building on an annual basis; drills are conducted at least once each semester in on-campus student housing facilities. All evacuation exercise documentation is retained by the Fire Marshal for a minimum of seven years and includes the exercise description, date, time, and whether the test was announced or unannounced.

Additional Emergency Information & Resources

The Office of Emergency Management website is the best resource for students, employees, and campus visitors to stay updated on the University's emergency plans and safety protocols. The website includes practical resources for the UT community to stay safe during an emergency, including an Emergency Preparedness Pocket Guide, a glossary of emergency terms, and a list of safety hubs on campus.

SECURITY & ACCESS TO UNIVERSITY FACILITIES

General Building & Facilities Access

General access to University buildings and facilities is restricted to employees (including faculty), students, invited guests, affiliates, and contractors at all times, where the public is expressly invited, such as museums, libraries and at certain events. Most buildings have a designated “celebrated entrance” with a Building Access Control System, which allows students, faculty, and staff to access the building during restricted access hours using their UT ID card. University facilities are not public facilities and all persons, regardless of University affiliation, should be prepared to show a valid identification card upon request. See HOP 8-1080 for more information.

Residence Hall Access

University Housing and Dining spaces, including lounges, common areas, outdoor patios, courtyards, and amphitheaters, are for the use of residents and invited guests. Quiet hours and courtesy hours must be followed in all UHD spaces.

All residence halls require a UT ID card or key fob for access. After midnight, residents must enter through designated doors or by using a UT ID card. It is a violation of University policy to circumvent monitored access points to residence halls. See the Residence Hall Manual for more information.

Maintenance of University Facilities

UT Austin maintains campus facilities in a manner that minimizes hazardous and unsafe conditions. This includes maintaining interior and exterior lighting (including emergency lighting during power failures), locking all building entrances on a regular schedule, and conducting building patrols and door checks. Additionally, the University has installed door viewers (“peep holes”) in all student housing room doors, uses a controlled keyway lock system, uses BACS scanners to control building access, and enforces a guest escort policy in on-campus student housing facilities.

MISSING STUDENT NOTIFICATION PROCEDURE

Missing Student Notification Procedure was created to address appropriate response to reports of missing students and applies to all students who reside in on-campus housing. The full procedure is available in the Residence Hall Manual.

All students who reside in on-campus housing must designate another individual as a Missing Person Contact. This contact information will be registered confidentially and accessible only to authorized campus officials. This information may not be disclosed, except to law enforcement personnel in furtherance of a missing person investigation.

A student's Missing Person Contact will be notified within 24 hours of a determination by UTPD or local law enforcement that the student is missing. Additionally, for students residing in on-campus housing who are under 18 and not emancipated, the University will also notify a custodial parent or guardian within 24 hours of a determination that the student is missing.

Students, employees, and other individuals should report that a student has been missing for 24 hours to UTPD, the Office of the Dean of Students, or any Residence Life staff member. Any missing student report will be immediately referred to UTPD. UT Austin will notify local law enforcement within 24 hours of a determination that a student is missing, unless the local law enforcement agency was the entity that made the determination.

POLICIES ON ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES & ILLEGAL DRUGS

UT Austin is a drug free institution and provides information to students and employees regarding illicit drug and alcohol abuse, including standards of conduct, health risks, state and federal penalties, and available counseling and rehabilitation services.

University Standards of Conduct & Sanctions

STUDENTS

All students are expected and required to obey federal, state, and local laws and follow UT Austin and UT System policies, rules, and regulations. UT Austin policy prohibits:

- The unauthorized use, possession, sale, distribution, or consumption of alcoholic beverages on or in University property
- The improper use, possession, sale, distribution, or consumption of alcoholic beverages, including but not limited to underage possession of alcohol, underage consumption of alcohol, providing alcohol to a minor, public intoxication, minor driving under the influence of alcohol, or driving while intoxicated

- The unauthorized use, possession, sale, or distribution of a drug
- The possession of drug paraphernalia

UTPD enforces Texas underage drinking laws, as well as state and federal drug laws. Sanctions for students who violate the law or UT policy include, but are not limited to, disciplinary probation, revocation of privilege to reside in on-campus student housing, suspension, or expulsion.

EMPLOYEES

UT Austin is committed to maintaining a workplace free from the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use of controlled substances and alcohol.

University policy prohibits:

- The unauthorized purchase, manufacture, distribution, possession, sale, storage, or use of an illegal drug or controlled substance while on duty, while in or on premises or property owned or controlled by the University, or while in vehicles used for University business
- The use of alcohol or an illegal drug or controlled substance while not on duty which adversely affects job performance or may adversely affect the health or safety of other employees, students, visitors, or patients
- The use of alcohol at an authorized University function, in the course of official University business, or at an authorized University site which adversely affects job performance or may adversely affect the health or safety of others
- The distribution of a drug or controlled substance obtained pursuant to a prescription, except by duly licensed and certified persons, while on duty or while in or on premises or property controlled by the University

An employee who violates University policy may be subject to disciplinary action, including termination. At the discretion of the University the employee may be referred to an assistance program and/or may be required to participate in and satisfactorily complete a chemical abuse rehabilitation program as a condition of continued employment.

Employees who use illegal drugs or abuse controlled substances or alcohol are encouraged to seek help from available resources.

Drug & Alcohol Abuse Education Programs

UT Austin provides a wide range of programming related to drug and alcohol education and prevention as well as intervention, treatment, and recovery programs for students and employees. An in-depth inventory with descriptions of these programs can be found in the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act Biennial Review.

Additionally, the Biennial Review contains descriptions of the health risks associated with the use of illicit drugs and the abuse of alcohol, as well as information about applicable legal sanctions under state and federal law for the unlawful possession or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol.

RESPONSE TO SEXUAL & GENDER-BASED VIOLENCE

UT Austin is committed to providing an educational and working environment that is free from sexual and gender-based violence. In accordance with federal and state law, the University prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex and gender and prohibits sexual harassment, sexual assault, sexual misconduct, sexual exploitation, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking.

To that end, the University issues this statement of policy to inform the campus community of programs to address prohibited conduct and of the procedures for institutional disciplinary action which will be followed when prohibited conduct is reported to a University official, regardless of whether the incident occurs on campus.

Statement on 2024 Amendments to Title IX Regulations

The University acknowledges recent amendments to federal Title IX regulations. However, pursuant to the directive from the Governor of Texas and the court order enjoining Texas from implementing these amendments, the University has not revised its policy to reflect the 2024 amendments and instead continues to rely on the 2020 amendments.

The current versions of all University policies contained in the Handbook of Operating Procedures are always available on the University Policy Office webpage.

Reporting Prohibited Conduct

Reporting prohibited conduct allows the University to provide supportive measures to the parties involved but does not necessarily result in the initiation of a grievance process. All parties who report incidents under University policy will be offered individualized supportive measures. Students are encouraged to report promptly.

All University employees, except for those deemed confidential employees, are required by state law to promptly report all occurrences of sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, and stalking to the Title IX Coordinator. Failure to report an occurrence of such prohibited behavior will result in disciplinary actions, including termination, and may also be subject to criminal penalties under state law.

Additionally, individuals wishing to file a Formal Complaint related to prohibited conduct should contact the Title IX Office. Confidential & Anonymous Reporting to Title IX

UT Austin is committed to providing the campus community access to trained and caring personnel who can provide confidential support, as well as information about available institutional resources, to empower Longhorns who may be experiencing prohibited conduct to make informed decisions about their rights and options.

State law requires University employees, including faculty, to report to the Title IX Coordinator when they receive information regarding an incident of sexual assault, dating violence, stalking, or sexual harassment. However, members of the UT Austin community may speak to Confidential Employees about prohibited conduct without the conversation triggering a mandatory report of incident details. A Confidential Employee is not required to report any information that would violate an individual's expectation of privacy, such as the name or other identifying information of an individual who has experienced or allegedly engaged in prohibited conduct.

A list of Confidential Employees and Campus Confidential Resources can be found on the Title IX Office website.

Medical Procedures & Resources

Anyone who experiences any form of sexual assault, domestic violence, or dating violence is strongly encouraged to seek immediate medical care. Individuals can undergo a medical exam to properly collect and preserve physical evidence of the sexual assault with or without police involvement.

It is important to preserve forensic and other physical evidence that may assist in proving the alleged criminal offense occurred, and such evidence may be helpful in obtaining a protective order against the respondent. Therefore, a medical exam should be performed immediately after the event, if possible.

An individual who has experienced sexual assault is strongly encouraged to seek medical and psychological care regardless of whether the individual intends to report the assault to police. The individual may be prescribed medications to prevent sexually transmitted infections and/or pregnancy, regardless of whether police were contacted.

SEXUAL ASSAULT FORENSIC EXAM

If an immediate medical exam is not possible, individuals who have experienced sexual assault may have a Sexual Assault Forensic Exam performed by a Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner within 5 days (120 hours) of the incident. With the examinee's consent, physical evidence collected during this exam can be used in a criminal investigation. However, a person may undergo a SAFE even without contacting or intending to contact the police.

To undergo a SAFE, go directly to the emergency department of the nearest hospital or facility that provides SAFE services. You may also contact:

An individual may also seek an exam at a nearby hospital, clinic, or from their own physician. The cost of the forensic portion of the exam is eligible for reimbursement through the state Crime Victims' Compensation Program. CVC will reimburse forensic costs such as examiner fees, place of service fee, exam fees, sexual assault kit, laboratory procedures, and certain other charges.

OTHER RESOURCES

Medical care can be provided at University Health Services (for students), at a local emergency room, or by a private physician. Psychological support can be provided by the University Counseling and Mental Health Center (for students), SAFE Austin, or by a care provider of the individual's choosing.

Preserving Other Evidence

An individual who experiences any form of sexual assault, domestic or dating violence, or stalking is encouraged to preserve evidence, including text messages, emails, and other communications; photos; logs and timelines of incidents; and copies of other documents. Preserving evidence can aid law enforcement, as well as University investigators and adjudicators. Such evidence may also be helpful should the victim seek a protective order against the respondent.

Law Enforcement Reporting Options

Victims of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, and other sex offenses are encouraged to notify law enforcement, including UTPD and local police. Campus authorities can assist victims in notifying law enforcement if the victim wishes to do so. However, victims may decline to notify law enforcement without impacting their ability to receive campus support and resources.

If a victim chooses to contact law enforcement, a uniformed officer will be sent to the scene to take a detailed statement. A police department counselor may provide a ride to the hospital. A report may be filed with the police regardless of whether or not the accused is a UT student.

Victims may file a report with law enforcement regardless of the time elapsed since the assault occurred. Reporting an assault to law enforcement does not mean the case will automatically go to criminal trial or through University disciplinary processes.

Protective Orders & Other Remedies

An individual who experiences any form of sexual assault may pursue any civil or criminal remedies provided by law. An individual does not need to file a criminal police report to use on- or off-campus resources or to file a complaint with the University. The Title IX Office will assist any individual with notifying law enforcement if they so desire.

In some situations, UTPD may be able to assist in obtaining an Emergency Protective Order. However, the victim is required to apply directly for these services through the county or district court where the victim resides.

A protective order is a civil court order issued to prevent continuing acts of family violence, sexual assault, human trafficking, or stalking. UT Austin complies with applicable law in recognizing orders of protection. Any member of the campus community who obtains an order of protection from Texas or any other state should provide a copy to UTPD. Students should also provide a copy of an order of protection to the Office of the Dean of Students.

UTPD can provide the protected individual with strategies to reduce the risk of harm while on campus or coming and going from campus. UT Austin may prohibit contact between parties if deemed appropriate. If the University receives a report that such a directive has been violated, the University will initiate disciplinary proceedings appropriate to the status of the accused (student, employee, etc.) and will impose sanctions if the accused is found responsible for violating the directive.

On- & Off-Campus Resources

Individuals are strongly encouraged to report prohibited conduct that violates University policy. UT Austin takes reports of alleged violations very seriously and will investigate such allegations. The University will provide written notification to students and employees about existing counseling, health, mental health, victim advocacy, legal assistance, visa and immigration assistance, student financial aid, and other services available for victims, both within the University and in the community. A list of these services, as well as information on how to request them or get assistance requesting them, is maintained on the Title IX Office website.

Written Notification to Victims

Upon receipt of a report that a student or employee has been a victim of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking, UT Austin will, in a timely manner, provide the student or employee a written explanation of their rights and options, regardless of whether the offense occurred on campus.

The University will also provide timely written notification to victims about options for, available assistance in, and how to request changes to academic, living, transportation, and working situations or protective measures. The University will make such accommodations or provide such protective measures if the victim requests them and if they are reasonably available, regardless of whether the victim chooses to report the crime to UTPD or local law enforcement.

Procedures for Institutional Disciplinary Action

UT Austin recognizes the rights of parties to report an incident to the University and to receive a prompt and equitable resolution of the report. University policy distinguishes between reporting incidents and filing a Formal Complaint.

REPORTING INCIDENTS

Any person may report prohibited conduct by contacting the Title IX Office, regardless of whether the person reporting is the person alleged to be subject to the complained-of behavior. Reports may be made anonymously via an online reporting form. However, anonymous reports may limit the University's ability to respond to the allegations. Reporting an incident does not necessarily result in the initiation of a grievance process. Prompt reporting is encouraged.

All parties who report incidents of prohibited conduct to the University will be offered individualized supportive measures. However, individuals may prefer to report incidents outside of the University. A list of available outside entities that receive reports is available on the Title IX Office website.

FILING FORMAL COMPLAINTS

Any person subject to an alleged incident of prohibited conduct in violation of University policy may file a Formal Complaint to initiate the appropriate grievance process. The Title IX Coordinator may also file and sign a Formal Complaint based on any incident report received which will initiate the appropriate grievance process track. There are three grievance process tracks, two of which cover sexual assault, interpersonal violence, stalking, and sexual harassment.

FORMAL COMPLAINT DISMISSALS

The University may dismiss a Formal Complaint, at its discretion, for any of the following circumstances:

- (1) The complainant requests in writing to dismiss a Formal Complaint.
- (2) The respondent was an employee and is no longer employed by the University at the time the Formal Complaint is filed, or is no longer employed at any time during the grievance process including the investigation or hearing.
- (3) Specific circumstances prevent the University from gathering evidence sufficient to reach a determination as to the Formal Complaint or allegations therein.
- (4) The conduct alleged does not meet the definition of any conduct prohibited under University policy.

If a Formal Complaint is dismissed, the University must provide the complainant and respondent written notice of the dismissal and the reason for the dismissal. Factors the University must consider when determining whether to investigate an alleged incident of prohibited conduct include, but are not limited to, the seriousness of the alleged incident; whether the University has received other reports of prohibited conduct by the alleged respondent; whether the alleged incident poses a risk of harm to others; and any other factors the University determines relevant.

Under state law, if the complainant requests in writing that the University not investigate a report, the University must inform the complainant of the decision whether or not to investigate.

If the respondent is a student who withdraws or graduates while disciplinary charges are pending for a violation of sexual harassment, sexual assault, dating violence, or stalking, the University will not end the disciplinary process or issue a transcript to the student until the University makes a final determination. These matters will be expedited as necessary to accommodate both parties' interest in a speedy resolution.

INTERIM MEASURES

Appropriate University officials will decide if and what interim measures are necessary. Such interim measures may include, but are not limited to, separating the complainant and respondent's academic or working situations, prohibiting contact between parties involved in a complaint, suspending the right of the respondent to be present on campus, or otherwise altering the University status of the respondent. Other interim measures may be implemented given the respondent's relationship with the University. These interim measures may be kept in place through the conclusion of any review, investigation, or appeal process.

Emergency removal of an individual may be necessary. A respondent may be removed from the University's education program, activity, or work environment on an emergency basis if, after an individualized safety and risk analysis, it is determined that such a removal is justified because the respondent poses an immediate threat to the physical health or safety of an individual or campus community arising from the allegations of conduct prohibited. Under these circumstances, the respondent will be notified in writing of the emergency removal from the University's education program, activity, or work environment and the respondent will have an opportunity to immediately challenge the decision following the emergency removal.

An employee respondent may be placed on investigation leave or alternative work assignment, in accordance with the University's policy and procedures, during the pendency of a grievance process.

STANDARD OF EVIDENCE & PRESUMPTION OF NOT RESPONSIBLE

All grievance process tracks will use the preponderance of the evidence standard. By law, the burden does not shift to the respondent when the respondent asserts an affirmative defense. It is presumed that the respondent is not responsible for the alleged conduct unless that determination regarding responsibility is made at the conclusion of the grievance process.

GRIEVANCE PROCESS TRACK A

Track A applies in instances where all of the following conditions are met:

- (1) The respondent is a student (including a student employee), employee, or other affiliate at the University at the time of the alleged conduct;
- (2) The alleged conduct includes sexual assault, interpersonal violence, stalking, or sexual harassment;
- (3) The alleged conduct occurred against a person in the United States; and
- (4) The complainant was participating or attempting to participate in an education program or activity at the University. This element is met if the conduct occurred on any University property; during any University activity; in a building owned or controlled by a student organization that is officially recognized by the University; or in instances where the University exercised substantial control over the respondent and the context in which the alleged conduct occurred.

Joining Allegations to Track A Matter

There may be instances where the same nucleus of underlying facts gives rise to an allegation assigned to the Track A process and simultaneously gives rise to additional allegations of other policy or rule violations not typically covered by Track A. When this occurs, those additional allegations will be joined, for all purposes, to the allegations assigned to Track A, and all allegations arising from the same nucleus of underlying facts will be handled through the Track A process.

This joining provision controls even when the additional allegations otherwise would have fallen under a different grievance process. Once an allegation is joined to a Track A matter because of its origin in the same nucleus of underlying facts, Track A is the exclusive process and remedy available for handling that allegation.

Written Notice of the Formal Complaint & Notification of University Offices Offering Assistance

After receiving a Formal Complaint, the Title IX Office will provide a written notice to the parties of the Formal Complaint and available University resources and assistance. The written notice of the Formal Complaint will include the following:

- A notice of the grievance process steps
- A notice of the allegations that potentially constitute prohibited conduct, including sufficient details about the alleged conduct, the identity of the parties (if known), and the date, time, and location of alleged conduct known by the University at the time of the Formal Complaint
- A statement of the potential policy violations being investigated
- A statement that the respondent is presumed not responsible for the alleged conduct and that the determination regarding responsibility will be made at the conclusion of the grievance process

- A statement of the range of possible disciplinary sanctions and remedies the University may implement upon a determination of responsibility
- A statement that credibility determinations will not be based on a person's status as a complainant, respondent, or witness
- Both parties may have an advisor of their choice, who may be, but is not required to be, an attorney, and may inspect and review all evidence
- A statement that the parties may review evidence gathered as part of any investigation
- A statement that knowingly making false statements or knowingly submitting false information during the grievance process is prohibited and subject to disciplinary action
- Any other information relevant to the written notice

Investigation of the Formal Complaint & Gathering of Evidence

Respondent Statement

After the University provides written notice of a Formal Complaint to the parties, the respondent will be allowed a reasonable time to respond in writing and/or through an interview with the investigator.

Notice of Events

The University will provide written notice to a party whose participation is invited or expected of the date, time, location, participants, and purpose of all meetings, investigative interviews, or other proceedings in the grievance process.

Evidence

The parties in the investigation may present any information and evidence that may be relevant to the Formal Complaint, and may have an advisor of their choice attend any related interview, meeting, or proceeding. Advisors are not permitted to actively participate in meetings or proceedings in the grievance process, except as expressly allowed by University policy. The parties may present the names of any fact or expert witnesses who may provide relevant information and how the witnesses may be relevant to the Formal Complaint. The parties may submit to the investigator any questions they would like asked of any known potential witnesses or parties.

Witness Interviews

The investigators will interview relevant and available witnesses. Neither the complainant nor the respondent will normally attend these interviews. However, if either one is permitted to attend, the other shall have the same right.

Investigation Timeframe

The investigation of a Formal Complaint will be concluded within 90 business days of the notice of the Formal Complaint. The parties should be provided updates on the progress of the investigation, as needed.

Access to Evidence

Prior to the completion of the investigation report, the investigators will provide access to all evidence obtained (whether relevant or not) as part of the investigation to both parties and the party's advisor, if any, upon a party's signed information release for their advisor of choice. Both parties will have 10 business days to inspect, review, and respond to the evidence. All responses to the evidence must be submitted by the party in writing to the investigator. The investigators will consider all timely responses submitted by the parties.

Completed Investigation Report

The completed investigation report will outline each of the allegations that potentially constitutes conduct that violates University policy, provide the timeline (e.g. procedural steps) of the investigation, and objectively summarize relevant evidence, participant statements, and responses to questions. For allegations joined to Track A, the allegations will be handled in the same manner.

The investigator will provide a completed investigation report concurrently to both parties and each party's advisor, if any, upon a party's signed information release for their advisor of choice, at least 10 business days prior to the date of the scheduled hearing to review and provide a written response at the hearing. A copy of the completed investigation report will be issued to the Title IX Coordinator and to the hearing officer assigned for the hearing.

Live Hearing & Determination of Responsibility

Live Hearing Requirement

Absent a Formal Complaint dismissal, the University will provide a live hearing for all Formal Complaints subject to Track A. The University representative will present information regarding the case at the hearing and will have the ability to present information and witnesses, question witnesses, and provide opening and closing statements at the hearing.

Written Notice of the Hearing

The University will provide at least 10 business days written notice to participants of the hearing (and a party's advisor, if any, upon party's signed information release for their advisor of choice), including the date, time, location, names of all participants of the hearing (including the hearing officer, and all parties and participants in the investigation report), purpose of the hearing, a statement of the alleged conduct charges, and a summary statement of the evidence gathered.

Challenges to the Hearing Officer

Either party may challenge the fairness, impartiality or objectivity of a hearing officer. The challenge must be submitted in writing to the hearing officer through the office coordinating the hearing within 5 business days after notice of the identity of the hearing officer and must state the reasons for the challenge. The Chief Compliance Officer or their designee will be the sole judge of whether the hearing officer can serve with fairness, impartiality, and objectivity. In the event that the hearing officer recuses themselves, an alternative hearing officer will be assigned by the Department of Investigation and Adjudication.

Hearing Officer Duties at the Hearing

The hearing officer will rule on all procedural matters and on objections regarding exhibits and testimony of participants at the hearing, may question participants who testify at the hearing, and is entitled to have the advice and assistance of legal counsel from the Office of General Counsel of The University of Texas System.

Access to Evidence

Each party will have access to all of the evidence from the investigation, including a copy of the completed investigation report.

Separate Rooms and Virtual Participation

At the request of either party, the University will provide the hearing to occur with the parties located in separate rooms with technology enabling the hearing officer and the parties to simultaneously see and hear the participants answering questions. Participants may appear at the hearing virtually and are not required to be physically present in the same physical location of the hearing.

Opening Statements

Each party may make opening and closing statements.

Privileged Information Excluded

No person will be required to disclose information protected under a legally recognized privilege. The hearing officer must not allow into evidence or permit or rely upon any questions or evidence that may require or seek disclosure of such information, unless the person holding the privilege has waived the privilege. This includes information protected by the attorney-client privilege.

Advisor of Choice

Each party must have an advisor. Each party may have an advisor of their choice at the hearing. If a party does not have an advisor, the University must provide one. Advisors are not permitted to actively participate in the hearing, except for asking questions of the other party and any other witnesses. In addition, witnesses may have an advisor of their choice at the hearing. Upon request, the Title IX Office can provide an advisor to the parties.

Questioning Participants

The hearing officer may, at their discretion, ask questions during the hearing of any participants and may be the first person to ask questions of any participants. Each party's advisor will have an opportunity to ask relevant questions and follow-up questions of the other party and of any witnesses that participate in the hearing, including questions that challenge credibility. Parties will rely on their advisors to ask their questions directly, orally, and in real time at the hearing. The parties will not be permitted to personally ask questions of the other party or any witnesses that participate in the hearing.

Questions Procedure

The University representative and advisors will ask questions under the following procedure:

- (1) The University representative or advisor will ask a question of the applicable participant.
- (2) Before the participant answers a question, the hearing officer will rule as to whether the advisor's question is relevant to the alleged conduct charges.
- (3) If the hearing officer rules the advisor's question as not relevant, then the hearing officer must explain any decision to exclude a question as not relevant. If the hearing officer allows the question as relevant, the participant will answer it.

Prior Sexual History

A complainant's sexual predisposition or prior sexual behavior are not relevant except where questions and evidence about a complainant's prior sexual behavior are offered to prove that someone other than the respondent committed the alleged conduct charged by the complainant or if the questions or evidence concern specific incidents of the complainant's prior sexual behavior with the respondent and are offered to prove the complainant's consent of the alleged conduct.

Hearing Officer Determination

The hearing officer will prepare an initial draft written determination, which must include the following:

- (1) The allegations that potentially constitute a conduct violation of University policy
- (2) A description of all of the procedural steps of the grievance process, from the issuing of a notice of the Formal Complaint to the hearing decision
- (3) The findings of fact supporting the hearing officer's determination
- (4) The conclusion and a rationale as to whether the respondent is responsible for each allegation
- (5) The remedies, if applicable, designed to restore the complainant's access to the education program or activity
- (6) The institution's procedures and permissible bases for the parties to appeal, if applicable

If the hearing officer finds the respondent responsible for any alleged violations, the initial draft determination letter will be referred to the appropriate decision makers for decision regarding disciplinary sanctions, as follows:

- If the respondent is a student, it will be referred to the Department of Investigation and Adjudication for disciplinary sanctions decision. Prior to issuing a disciplinary sanction, DIA will consult with the Title IX Coordinator regarding the find of violation.
- If the respondent is a faculty member, it will be referred to the Executive Vice President and Provost for discipline decision.
- If the respondent is a staff member, it will be referred to the Chief Human Resources Officer for discipline decision.

Decision makers will provide the discipline decisions to the hearing officer within 10 business days of the hearing officer's referral to the decision maker. Upon receipt of the discipline decisions from the respective decision makers, the hearing officer will incorporate the discipline sanctions to prepare the completed written determination letter. The completed written determination letter will include all components required in the initial draft determination letter and the disciplinary sanctions imposed.

The hearing officer will send a copy of the completed written determination letter concurrently to the parties, the Title IX Coordinator, and the discipline decision maker within 21 business days from when the hearing concludes.

Recordings

The hearing will be recorded in audio or audiovisual format or transcribed. The University maintains the discretion to determine the method of recording. The recording or transcript will be available for the parties to inspect and review upon request.

Appeal of Hearing Determination

Basis for Appeal

Either party may appeal in writing a hearing officer's determination regarding a respondent's responsibility under the grievance process or from the University's dismissal of a Formal Complaint (or any allegations in the Formal Complaint) within 10 business days of notification of such a determination, on any of the following bases:

- (1) A procedural irregularity that affected the outcome of the matter
- (2) There is new evidence that was not reasonably available at the time of the determination regarding responsibility or dismissal was made that could affect the outcome of the matter
- (3) A challenge to the hearing officer's application of the standard of proof to the evidence
- (4) The Title IX Coordinator, investigator(s), or hearing officer had a conflict of interest or bias for or against the parties (generally, or specifically in this matter) that affected the outcome of the matter

Impartial Appellate Officer

The appellate officer must not be the same person as the Title IX Coordinator, investigator(s), or hearing officer in the grievance process. Both parties will be notified in writing when an appeal is filed and the appeal procedures will apply equally for both parties.

Statement of Support

Any non-appealing party (or the University) will have 7 business days from the notification of an appeal to submit a written statement in support of the outcome.

Final Determination

The decision maker on the appeal will release a written decision within 21 business days from the date of the appeal that either:

- Affirms the hearing officer's determination regarding the respondent's responsibility and its attendant disciplinary sanctions and remedies, if applicable
- Remands the matter back to the live hearing stage for the hearing officer to remedy any procedural irregularity or consider any new evidence
- Reverses the hearing officer's determination of the respondent's responsibility and the attendant disciplinary sanctions and remedies, if applicable

Grievance Process Documentation

University Risk and Compliance Services will retain all documentation for seven years, in accordance with state and federal records laws and University policy. All documentation of records is private and confidential to the extent possible under law.

Student records of the grievance process are disciplinary records under FERPA. Employee records of the grievance process are subject to the Freedom of Information Act and the Texas Public Information Act and are included in the employee's official employment record.

Grievance Process Track A Timeframe

The entire Track A grievance process, including any appeal, will generally be completed in no more than 165 business days from the notice of the Formal Complaint. In such a case, the grievance process timeframe will be extended by the time the parties spent exploring that alternative.

At its discretion, the University may temporarily delay the grievance process or provide a limited extension of its usual time frames for good cause with written notice to the parties of the reasons for the delay. Good cause considerations may include, but are not limited to, the absence of a party, the party's advisor, or a witness; concurrent law enforcement activity or civil proceeding; or the need for language assistance or other accommodation.

Delayed decisions will be made on a case-by-case basis. The University will not, as a matter of course, wait for the outcome of a concurrent criminal or civil justice proceeding to take action on a Formal Complaint in its grievance process. The University has an independent duty to respond to Formal Complaints of violations of institutional policy.

GRIEVANCE PROCESS TRACK B

Track B applies in all instances that do not meet the requirements for Track A but when all of the following conditions are met:

- (1) The alleged conduct includes sexual assault, interpersonal violence, stalking, or sexual harassment;
- (2) The alleged conduct occurred as off-campus conduct;
- (3) The conduct substantially affects a person's education or employment with the University or poses a risk of harm to members of the University community; and
- (4) The Respondent is a student (including a student employee) or employee at the time of the alleged conduct.

This track follows the investigation, hearing, and appeals processes and requirements as Track A.

ONGOING TRAINING

The University is committed to protecting the safety of all persons involved, including complainants and witnesses, and the due process rights of respondents, as well as promoting accountability. Appropriate compliance training sessions are conducted on an ongoing basis. Training sessions include information on how and where to report incidents and resources available, as well as safe and positive options that may be carried out by individuals to prevent harm or intervene when there is a risk of misconduct being inflicted on another person.

In addition, the University Title IX Coordinator, Deputy Title IX Coordinator, Title IX Office staff, and all investigators and hearing officers receive training each academic year about prohibited conduct, investigatory procedures, due process requirements, conducting a hearing, state and federal laws, and University policy.

Additional information related to this policy is available on the Title IX Office website.

The below represents a complete list of sanctions that may be imposed following a final determination of an institutional disciplinary procedure regarding rape, domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, or stalking.

Definitions

UNIVERSITY POLICY

HOP 3-3031

Consent

Consent is the act of willingly agreeing to engage in each specific sexual contact or activity. Consent must be clear, knowing, voluntary, and expressed prior to engaging in and during each sexual act. Consent may be expressed by mutually understandable words or actions. Given the importance of sexual autonomy and the potential impact on those subjected to nonconsensual sexual contact or activity, the University charges all parties to a sexual contact or activity with obtaining agreement from each party engaging in the sexual contact or activity. In assessing discipline matters, the responsibility for obtaining effective consent is on the person initiating each particular sexual activity or contact.

Consent to some form of sexual contact or activity cannot be automatically taken as agreement to any other form of sexual contact or activity. Previous consent does not imply ongoing consent to future sexual conduct. Silence or passivity without actions demonstrating agreement cannot be assumed to show consent.

Consent, once given, can be withdrawn at any time. Consent to engage in sexual activity with one person does not imply consent to engage in sexual activity with another. An individual's manner of dress does not constitute consent to engage in sexual contact or activity. The existence of a current or previous dating or sexual relationship between two or more individuals does not, in and of itself, constitute consent to engage in sexual contact or activity.

Consent is not effective if it results from:

- (1) Force. Force is the use or threat of physical harm to overcome freedom of will to choose whether to participate in sexual activity.
- (2) Coercion. The use of unreasonable pressure to compel another individual to initiate or continue sexual activity against an individual's will. Coercion can include a wide range of behaviors, including psychological or emotional pressure, physical or emotional threats, intimidation, manipulation, or blackmail that causes the person to engage in unwelcome sexual activity.

A person's words or conduct are sufficient to constitute coercion if they eliminate a reasonable person's freedom of will and ability to choose whether or not to engage in sexual activity.

- (3) Incapacitation. Incapacitation is a mental state caused by drunkenness, intoxication, or other mental or physiological condition in which a person does not have the ability to indicate agreement to engage in sexual contact or activity because the person is mentally and/or physically helpless due to a mental or physiological impairment, drug or alcohol consumption, either voluntarily or involuntarily, or the individual is unconscious, asleep, or otherwise unaware that the sexual contact or activity is occurring.

In most circumstances, a minor person under the age of 17 does not have capacity to consent to sexual activity under Texas law. Incapacitation may also exist because of a mental, physiological, or developmental disability that impairs the ability to consent.

An individual's use of alcohol or drugs does not diminish that individual's responsibility to obtain consent if that individual is the one who initiates the complained-of sexual contact or activity. In determining consent where alcohol or other drugs are involved, the University considers the totality of the circumstances, including (but not limited to):

- Whether a sober reasonable person would have known or deduced that the other was incapacitated
- Whether a person actually knew the other was incapacitated
- Whether a person demonstrates that they are unaware of where they are, how they got there, or why or how they became engaged in a sexual interaction
- Whether a person was conscious or unconscious
- Whether and when a person became sick due to intoxication
- A person's ability to communicate and/or slurred speech
- A person's coordination and physical control of the person's own body
- Any other action that would be indicative of a level of cognitive and physical functioning

- (2) A person with whom the affected individual shares a child in common
- (3) A person with whom the affected individual is cohabiting or has cohabited

Economic Abuse

Domestic violence and dating violence can include economic abuse. Economic abuse means behavior that is coercive, deceptive, or unreasonably controls or restrains a person's ability to acquire, use, or maintain economic resources to which they are entitled, including using coercion, fraud, or manipulation to:

- (1) Restrict a person's access to money, assets, credit or financial information
- (2) Unfairly use a person's personal economic resources, including money, assets, and credit, for one's own advantage

NEW YORK LAW

- (9) A resident or inpatient of a residential facility operated, licensed or certified by the office of mental health, the office for people with developmental disabilities, or the office of alcoholism and substance abuse services, and the actor is an employee of the facility not married to such resident or inpatient; or
- (10) Detained or otherwise in the custody of a police officer, peace officer, or other law enforcement official and the actor is a police officer, peace officer or other law enforcement official who either is detaining or maintaining custody of such person; or knows, or reasonably should know, that at the time of the offense, such person was detained or in custody.

SEXUAL & GENDER-BASED VIOLENCE PREVENTION

UT Austin engages in comprehensive, intentional, and integrated programming, initiatives, strategies, and campaigns intended to end dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking. As required by federal law, these efforts are culturally relevant, inclusive of diverse communities and identities, sustainable, responsive to community needs, informed by research, and assessed for value, effectiveness, or outcome. Programming is also designed with consideration for environmental risk and protective factors as they occur on individual, institutional, community, and societal levels.

Programs to promote the awareness and prevention of rape, acquaintance rape, domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, and sexual assault include primary programs directed at incoming students and new employees, as well as ongoing prevention and awareness campaigns directed at students and employees through various educational workshops and other programming. These primary prevention and ongoing awareness programs include:

- A statement that the University prohibits domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking
- Legal definitions of consent, domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking
- Safe and positive options for bystander intervention that a person may take to prevent harm or intervene when there is a risk of one of these offenses
- Information regarding risk reduction strategies to recognize warning signs of abusive behavior and how to avoid potential attacks
- The University's policies and disciplinary procedures related to domestic violence, dating violence, stalking, and sexual assault, including possible sanctions or protective measures the University may impose following the final outcome of the grievance process regarding these offenses
- Procedures individuals should follow if one of these offenses has occurred, including information about the importance of preserving evidence; to whom the offense should be reported; and options regarding law enforcement and campus authorities, including the option to notify (or not) law enforcement and be assisted by campus authorities in notifying law enforcement if the individual so desires
- Victims' rights and the University's responsibilities regarding protection/restraining orders, no contact orders, or similar civil/criminal orders
- Information regarding how the University will protect victims' confidentiality, including how publicly-available record keeping will be accomplished without the inclusion of identifying information about the victim, to the extent permitted by law

- Information about existing counseling, health, mental health, victim advocacy, legal assistance, and other services available for victims on and off campus
- Information about options for, and assistance in, changing academic, living, transportation, and working situations if requested by the victim and the requested accommodation is reasonably available, regardless of whether the victim chooses to report the crime to law enforcement authorities
- Notice that a person reporting to the University that they have been a victim of one of these offenses (whether it occurred on or off campus) will be provided a written explanation of this information

Employees are required to complete the course within the first 90 days of employment and once every two years thereafter.

Ongoing Prevention & Awareness Programs

MEN CAN END

A program of Texas Blazers, Men Can End aims to be visible allies on campus against gender-based violence, and offers opportunities for men to get connected with gender-based violence prevention.

How to Be an Active Bystander

Bystanders play a critical role in the prevention of sexual assaults, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. For example, bystanders may have the power to stop assaults, get help for people who have been victimized, or alert the appropriate authorities. UT Austin is committed to promoting a culture of shared accountability where bystanders are actively engaged in the prevention of prohibited conduct. As such, all members of the University community are encouraged to intervene or interrupt prohibited conduct they witness by taking actions such as:

- Confronting people who seclude, hit on, or sexually assault people who are incapacitated;
- Speaking up when someone discusses plans to take sexual advantage of another person;
- Calling the police when a person is being physically abusive towards another;

- Refusing to leave the area (or calling the police) if a person is trying to get you to leave so they can take advantage of another;
- Ensuring community members who are incapacitated are not left alone or in vulnerable situations;
- Referring people to appropriate University and community resources.

To learn more about how you can be an active bystander, visit the BeVOCAL webpage.

CAMPUS SEX CRIMES PREVENTION ACT

The federal Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act requires institutions of higher education to issue a statement advising the campus community where to obtain law enforcement agency information provided by a state concerning registered sex offenders. It also requires sex offenders already required to register in a state to provide notice, as required under state law, of each institution of higher education in that state at which the person is employed, carries on a vocation, volunteer, or is a student.

Texas law mandates that individuals who are required to register as sex offenders shall report to their primary registering agency if they are living, working, or volunteering with an institution of higher education. A search for registered sex offenders may be conducted on the Texas Department of Public Safety website.

The background of the entire page is a close-up photograph of vertical wooden slats, likely from a fence or a building's exterior. The wood has a natural, light brown tone with visible grain patterns and knots. A solid teal-colored rectangular overlay is positioned at the bottom of the page, containing the title and subtitle text.

ANNUAL CAMPUS CRIME STATISTICS

University Risk and Compliance Services

ANNUAL DISCLOSURE OF CAMPUS CRIME STATISTICS

UT Austin is committed to providing accurate crime statistics in compliance with federal law. The University coordinates the collection and reporting of crime statistics as specified by federal law. The statistics are collected from a variety of offices and agencies, including, but not limited to, UTPD, the Title IX Office, Student Conduct & Academic Integrity, campus security authorities, and local law enforcement agencies.

UT Austin gathers reports of Clery Act offenses from University Health Services, Counseling & Mental Health Services, the Employee Assistance Program, and other exempt employees to provide the most comprehensive representation of crimes reported as possible. Reports from these areas are provided without personally identifying information, and the reporting person can remain confidential for purposes of this report.

Campus departments involved in the collection of the crime statistics are provided guidance annually regarding the requirements of federal law, including the categorization of criminal activities and tabulation of location involved in reported crimes and arrests.

Property that is owned or controlled by the University can vary from year to year, which may impact the statistics. Through a cooperative arrangement with UTPD, the Clery Compliance Manager obtains relevant crime statistics from law enforcement agencies as well as agencies around the state, the country, and the world. These statistics include the nature, date, time, and locations of the incidents to ensure accuracy in reporting to the University community.

The information is compiled into the annual report. A notification of availability, which includes the web address of the report, is distributed to all enrolled students and current employees. The published report is available to the general public, and the crime statistics are provided to the U.S. Department of Education. Copies of this report can also be obtained from University Risk and Compliance Services. Prospective employees may also obtain a copy of this report from Human Resources. Copies of this report will be provided to others upon request.

This report includes crimes specified by the Clery Act that occurred on or within the University's Clery geography and were reported to local law enforcement or a campus security authority. Statistics are provided for each of UT Austin's separate campuses.

Additional information about the Clery Act, its requirements, and its definitions is available on the URCS website.

FIRE SAFETY REPORT

Fire Prevention Services

OVERVIEW

IN 2008, THE HIGHER EDUCATION OPPORTUNITY ACT REAUTHORIZED AND EXPANDED THE HIGHER EDUCATION ACT OF 1965.

The HEOA amended the Clery Act and created additional safety and security-related requirements for institutions to include fire safety reporting requirements for institutions with on-campus student housing facilities.

In compliance with appropriate provisions of federal law, The University of Texas at Austin is required to make reports available to the campus community and to prospective students and their parents pertaining to fire safety. Institutions maintaining on-campus student housing facilities must collect fire statistics, maintain a daily fire log, and publish an annual fire safety report.

THE ANNUAL FIRE SAFETY REPORT CONTAINS:

- (1) Policies for fire safety education and training programs for the campus community
- (2) Institutional policies or rules on portable electrical appliances, smoking, and open flames in student housing facilities
- (3) Procedures for student housing evacuation
- (4) A list of the titles of each person or organization to which individuals should report that a fire has occurred
- (5) Plans for future improvements in fire safety, if determined necessary by the institution
- (6) Fire statistics for each on-campus student housing facility
- (7) The number of fire drills held the previous calendar year
- (8) Description of the fire safety system for each on-campus student housing facility

FIRE SAFETY EDUCATION & TRAINING PROGRAMS

Fire Safety Training for RAs

Fire safety training is required for all resident assistants in on-campus residence halls. Training is provided by University Fire Prevention Services Inspectors prior to the fall semester. The training involves:

- (1) Live fire demonstration (facsimile of a residence hall room burning)
- (2) Orientation of a smoke-filled residence hall room using theatrical smoke
- (3) Practical, hands-on training on use of portable fire extinguishers
- (4) One-hour presentations conducted by Fire Prevention Services staff and the University Fire Marshal, including education on:
 - Practical fire safety inspection procedures for residence hall rooms, corridors, stairwells, and common areas
 - Prohibited electrical appliances and decorations
 - Fire and life safety violations and monetary fine system
 - Building fire safety systems, such as sprinklers and fire alarms
 - Evacuation procedures
 - Nightly building inspection procedures and reporting process

Additional information is available in the the Residence Hall Manual or on the Fire Prevention Services webpage.

Fire Safety Inspections

Fire safety inspections of all residence halls and individual rooms are performed by Fire Prevention Services staff and resident assistants assigned to each facility.¹ Training on how to conduct a fire safety inspection is provided by Fire Prevention Services staff who are certified by the National Fire Protection Association.

Inspections of residence halls are performed nightly by resident assistants, including:

- Checking exit corridors and stairwells for obstructions
- Checking exit signs for function and visibility

¹ Please note that not all student housing facilities are considered residence halls, and different procedures may be used in graduate student housing, short-term housing facilities on separate campuses, and other facilities.

- Ensuring exit doors are functioning and secure
- Checking lounges, study rooms, and other common areas for hazards

Reports regarding building safety equipment requiring repair or replacement must be submitted to maintenance personnel in a timely manner.

Fire Safety Education

The University of Texas at Austin was selected as the pilot program recipient for the Have an Exit Strategy fire safety education program adopted by the Texas State Fire Marshal's Office. The University has been involved in this educational fire prevention program since 2007. This program was formally adopted by the Texas State Fire Marshal's Office in 2010 and is offered to all public colleges and universities within the state of Texas.

Have an Exit Strategy emphasizes fire safety education venues that students, staff, and faculty may occupy while on campus. Examples include:

- Resident assistants and all first-year dormitory residents receive informational brochures on the Have an Exit Strategy program
- Bus service to campus has placards advertising the fire safety program
- Electronic scoreboards in campus athletics venues advertise the program
- Campus building exit diagrams include the program's logo
- The Austin Fire Department places Have an Exit Strategy placards in off-campus locations frequented by students

More information about the Have an Exit Strategy program is available on the Texas Department of Insurance website.

- Open flames, including candles (with or without burned wicks) and incense
- Grills, including electric, propane, charcoal, and wood-fired
- Toxic chemicals, flammable or combustible materials, or other hazardous materials
- Explosives, fireworks, weapons (including facsimiles), and ammunition

Open Flames

Candles, incense, or other open-flame devices may not be burned in student living space. Candles are not permitted in student living space as decoration. This includes scented candles, candle warmers, and other similar devices. LED battery-operated “candles” are permitted.

Students found in violation of policy will be directed to immediately remove prohibited items and may be subject to disciplinary action.

EMERGENCY EVACUATION

Alarms & Notifications

If there is a need to evacuate a building, students will be alerted through either the fire alarm system (for fires), or through the intercom system (for other emergencies requiring evacuation of the area). Every time the fire alarm system and/or intercom system is activated, students must immediately evacuate.

The fire alarm system is designed to give priority during an evacuation to residents who face the most imminent risk. This means, in some residence halls, the alarm will activate throughout the entire building. In other residence halls, the alarm will activate by sections.

By design, if an emergency is detected, in addition to ringing on a floor, the alarm will sound on the floor above and the floor below. The alarm will also sound in the stairwells to alert residents who may be entering the building. The alarm will sound on successive floors as the need arises; therefore, if the fire spreads, additional alarms would sound in areas to where the fire has spread. If an emergency is detected on the main floor or in an elevator shaft, the entire building will alarm.

In the event of an emergency, the fire alarm and intercom system will be used to advise residents of appropriate measures to take. Failure to evacuate could result in serious injury. Residents who fail to evacuate during an emergency may be subject to disciplinary action.

If there is a need to evacuate the campus, students will be alerted through the campus siren system, the fire alarm system, or the building intercom system.

Evacuation Procedures

In the event of an emergency, individuals who are able to evacuate the building safely should take the following steps:

- Turn off room lights and lock the room door
- If smoke is visible, take a dampened towel to cover the mouth and nose
- Calmly and quietly follow the nearest illuminated building exit
- Do not use elevators during the evacuation
- Proceed to a safe zone once outside the building
- Watch out for winds to avoid smoke and burning embers that may exist
- Stay off the streets to allow easy access to the building by emergency personnel

Individuals who need assistance or are unable to evacuate the building safely should take the following steps:

- Evacuate the building if it is possible to do so safely with assistance of another person who is willing to help
- Seek a safe place, preferably a residential living space, a living space with an exterior window, or near a stairwell
- Do not use elevators during the evacuation
- Call 911 and inform the dispatcher of your location and that you are unable to exit the building; if you are unable to access or use a telephone, attempt to have someone call 911 on your behalf . Provide the dispatcher with your building, floor, and living space location or room number, as well as your name, a call-back phone number, and any other information requested
- Remain on or near the telephone as long as it is safe to do so and notify the dispatcher if the situation becomes hazardous in any way

Evacuation Assistance

Students who may need accommodation or assistance during a building evacuation should contact the Housing Office at 512-471-3136. This information will remain confidential and will only be used for the purpose of emergency assistance during an evacuation. Note that only trained emergency personnel should attempt to physically move a person needing assistance.

Evacuation Routes

It is the responsibility of each person to know their building emergency evacuation routes and emergency procedures. A map listing building exits is located on the inside of the main entry door in each residence hall room. It is a violation to cover up the instruction and evacuation map with any item. Residence Life staff will assist with directing occupants to the designated assembly points.

FUTURE ENHANCEMENTS

The University of Texas at Austin is committed to providing a safe environment for students, faculty, and staff and therefore continually evaluates the need for enhancements in all aspects of the campus fire safety program.

The University reviews changes to campus population, building use and occupancy, the design and construction of new buildings, renovations to existing structures, and potential upgrades to fire and life safety equipment to ensure required changes to the fire safety program are implemented in a timely manner.

REPORTING A FIRE

Emergency Reporting

In event of an emergency, call 911. Utilize fire alarm pull stations if it is safe to do so and evacuate the building or area if you are able.

Nonemergency Reporting

THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS POLICE DEPARTMENT

512-471-4441 (nonemergency phone number)

Members of the campus community should report all fires on campus to UTPD. If you find evidence of a fire that has been extinguished and are not sure whether UTPD has already responded, you should notify UTPD immediately so they can investigate and document the incident.

UNIVERSITY FIRE MARSHAL

512-495-3637

UTPD will notify the University Fire Marshal of any fire on campus involving an injury, death, or significant property damage and of any suspicious fire incidents.

TEXAS STATE FIRE MARSHAL'S OFFICE

512-676-6800

The University Fire Marshal will notify the State Fire Marshal's Office of any fire on campus involving an injury, death, or significant property damage and of any suspicious fire incidents.
